SUMMARY OF INFORMATION
(C) Information on file at this headquarters reveals that Laurence VUCKICH, born 11 November 1912 at ZAKONARJE, Polish National Organization) in 1937, and remained an active member in the German Army. In November 1945, he became a member of the Abwehr Troop #1 (intelligence) and served in the rank of Major until 1945. His army service was spent on the Eastern Front. He had adopted and used the name of Laurence Vuckich. (C) Further information DAD dated April 1951, reveals that VUCKICH had joined the Ukrainian Resistance Movement whose sole aim was the liberation and the independence of Ukraine. VUCKICH suffered 10 years in Soviet camps, eight (8) of his relatives were deported to the Soviet Union. His brother was serving with the Ukrainian underground in the Soviet Union. Therefore, his service with the Abwehr was dictated not by a desire for intense pro-Ukrainian and anti-Soviet feelings. It was for the purpose of the Abwehr had been working for DAD since 1945, but he left Germany because the international situation was becoming too risky. This information indicates that in August 1951, VUCKICH was the subject of an investigation to determine his suitability for immigration to the United States. The investigation, which consisted of a check of available records, and interviews with his developed references, revealed no derogatory information other than his association with the Abwehr. At the request of DAD, European Central Headquarters directed the organization to reflect the results of SUBJECT's investigation and to insure that he would not be rejected for immigration. Records do not indicate whether SUBJECT immigrated. Available records disclose no further pertinent information.
